Dear Sister and Brother Scouts,

Over the years I have had the privilege to meet Scouts from all over the world, and one of the things I have noticed is how much our members have in common. We tend to focus a lot on the diversity and how big the differences are between countries and cultures. This is of course one of the strengths of our Movement, but the truly amazing thing is our similarities. Shared values and methods, and a shared programme. I won't deny that there are many different versions and interpretations of the programme even within countries, associations and cultures. But this is part of the beauty of Scouting - diversity and unity at the same time.

"THE LIFE AND SOCIETY WE PREPARE FOR, THE EDUCATION WE PROVIDE AND THE IMPACT OF SCOUTING IN THE LIVES OF YOUNG PEOPLE AND COMMUNITIES!"

In just a few weeks time we will meet in Hong Kong or in the virtual world and for three full days focus on the core business and programme of our Movement. We will discuss, listen, participate, deliver, join in, argue and learn about what we consider to be one of the most important topics in the world. Once these days are over, I hope that we all go home and continue this important work: Creating the most fantastic youth programme and the most fantastic support system in the world.

This 1st World Scout Education Congress is supported by Messengers of Peace, a programme that provides world Scouting with great resources to drive the development of Scouting. It also allows us to focus even more on the areas of community service and peace, which I believe are important areas of Scouting. My hope is for this Congress to offer more people an even greater programme, and proudly tell the world about it! During the Congress several members of the World Scout Bureau Global Projects team that are responsible for the Messengers of Peace project will be available to work with you on great ideas and projects and translate them into funding application to help you deliver better Scouting around the world.

The venue in Hong Kong is a great example of Scouting being at the centre of society. Not only does the Scout Association of Hong Kong run a big hotel and conference centre in the middle of the city, they also run troop meetings and all kinds of training and support activities.

And you will notice how proud, and rightfully so, they are of this - everything in the hotel breathes Scouting! This is a great way to show that Scouting has an important and central place in society. Hong Kong Scouting has supported this Congress not only with manpower, but financially as well. For all this I want to express my thanks to the Host Association.

I look forward to meeting you all in Hong Kong or online. This event will be a milestone and will place programme at the centre of our Movement.

When in doubt, move forward!

GÖRAN HÄGERDAL
GLOBAL DIRECTOR, SCOUTING'S DEVELOPMENT, WORLD SCOUT BUREAU

Dear fellow Scouts,

It is indeed a great honour and privilege for the Scout Association of Hong Kong to host and to assist in organizing this very important global event. Being the host NSO, all of our leaders and youth members will do their very best to provide quality services to all the participants of this event. We welcome these delegates, facilitators, rapporteurs, Scout guests, external organization representatives, keynote speakers or helpers from over one hundred NSOs/ NSAs of our great Scouting family.

For more than 100 years, Scouting, an educational movement, has a proven track record and reputation for the positive development of young people that benefits the whole of society through life. As an old Chinese saying goes, "it takes only ten years to grow trees but a hundred years to model and develop people". Indeed, it is not at all that easy for Scouting to develop our young people making them useful citizens and leaders of their societies but as we have promised, we will always do our best. I have much pleasure to see and am most encouraged to be involved in the organization of this 1st World Scout Education Congress to be held in Hong Kong in two weeks time which will enlighten us more about Youth Programme, Adult Resources and Our Impact on Society-Now and in the Future. I hope that all our youth members will set "lifelong learning" as the ideal of their personal learning, adjust themselves readily to the ever-changing social environment and meet the requirements for the sustainable development of Society, through Scouting worldwide.

Intercultural awareness

Welcome to a unique cultural adventure at the 1st World Scout Education Congress. This Congress will give you a unique opportunity to experience Intercultural exchanges and understandings among young people from many different NSO's, countries and cultures.

You can be sure that during the following week you will encounter a truly wonderful global environment with participants from each of the six Scouting Regions and many different cultures. It is essential to approach the congress with an open mind and respect for other cultures.

Each culture shapes its perceptions and behaviours by paying attention to some details of reality and ignoring others, by permitting some actions and forbidding others. The way each culture shapes, however, is felt to be natural by the people concerned; and while some aspects of other cultures can sometimes feel comfortable or desirable, many others can be perceived unnatural.

As you commence the week consider these intercultural awareness suggestions to assist you during this week in Asia.

- Think about the use of your left hand e.g. shaking hands and using the left hand is not acceptable to some cultures and religions. Be observant.
- Gift giving is extremely important in Asia. Bring small gifts from home to reciprocate. Always give and receive gifts with two hands. Do not open the gift in front of the person, do that in privacy.
- Respect a person's personal space; do not stand too close if you do not know them well. Remember your body language when meeting or working with your elders. Do not cross your arms or legs or stand over them. Work at their level.

- Eye contact is very important.
- Respect peoples cultural or religious beliefs when it comes to the consumption of alcohol.
- If you find it difficult to use chopsticks it is acceptable to ask for a knife and fork or fork and spoon.
- Inclusiveness is very important in all sessions, some people will be shy, frightened to use English etc. so finds ways to include them..... translate if possible.
- Avoid touching or hugging with strangers especially in games and activities as you do not wish to embarrass anyone.
- Respect cultural requirements when entering temples, mosques, churches etc.
- Respect male/female cultural requirements such as behavior in public.
- Remember your dress code...think about what you wear to sessions, shoes, blouses for women should have a sleeve etc.
- Ensure you bring enough name cards. Name card giving and receiving is very important, give and receive with two hands with the words facing the person you are giving it too.
- Finally some sessions are live streams take care when delivering or participating and remember all cultural sensitivities.

Welcome again to this once-in-a-lifetime intercultural experience at the 1st World Scout Education Congress.

There are leaders the people FEAR
There are leaders the people HATE
There are leaders the people LOVE

But when the best leaders of all have finished their work, the people say, "we did it ourselves"

NSO/NSA Participation at the Congress

From the very beginning, the Congress has set out to be an event willing to involve as much as possible of its main audience, the National Scout Associations. From the composition of its various teams to the information-sharing services on the website and social media, the event tried to make sure that all views and backgrounds are taken into account when building its programme and structures.

However, what we hope to achieve at the Congress goes beyond merely taking into account the NSAs' opinions and concerns – we hope to have national leaders from all over the World ACTIVELY contributing to the programme of the event. So, what's in for an association and how can YOU be involved?

1. ENSURE THE SESSIONS PREPARED ARE REALLY ANSWERING YOUR EXPECTATIONS

Encourage every leader at national level in your association interested in education to familiarize her/himself with the topics which will be addressed at the Congress and comment on each session page with her/his views, aspects that she/he would like to see addressed, etc. Our facilitators are closely monitoring their pages and are more than willing to engage in a dialogue, as well as adapt the session so that it answers the real expectations of all the public, the ones present in Hong-Kong but, mainly, those following the event online.

2. PROPOSE AN NSO/NSA-LED SESSION/ INTERESTING PRACTICE AT THE CONGRESS

Without any doubt, there are many Associations that have done some great work and set important milestones in the areas pertinent to Scout education. We would like to see these inspiring practices promoted to all participants at the WSEC! Therefore, the Planning Team is proposing three types of NSA-led input and sharing opportunities:

- Innovative projects, new ideas and approaches, successful programmes – if you have a presentation of some work done by your NSO/NSA that can be explained in max. 15 minutes, then the Town Fair (Friday, 22 November, from 21:00 to 22:30) is the best place to share. Request a slot by filling this application form before the 15th of November! (See from online: <http://www.worldscouteducationcongress.org/en/nso-led-sessions>)
- Useful resources, books, magazines, project materials – if you would like to share the educational resources of your NSO/NSA and promote future events and initiatives, then the Market on Saturday, 23 November, from 18:30 to 19:30 is the best time and place to share.

- An area of work related to education in which your association has made significant progress, using new approaches and with verified results – we have three slots available for full-fledged (90 minutes) sessions during the Congress for NSAs willing to present new topics and work with other national leaders on certain topics. By signing up for this opportunity, your NSO/NSA is committing to ensure the content and the format of a workshop which meets the requirements of a World event. You will receive the same support as any other facilitator and the session will become part of the official programme of the Congress. Request a 90 minutes session by filling this application form before the 10th of November! (See form online: <http://www.worldscouteducationcongress.org/en/nso-led-sessions>)
- the official programme of the Congress. Request a 90 minutes session by filling this application form before the 10th of November!

3. PROMOTE AND HELP ORGANISE A WSEC@YOURNSA/NSO

As you are certainly aware, following an event online is useful and entertaining, but even much more so if it is done together with friends and people with a common interest. To encourage this, the World Scout Education Congress is calling every NSA interested to organise a “WSEC@YourNSA” session, for national leaders interested in the topics related to education.

“WSEC@YourNSA/NSO”: What do I need to do to host it?

Even though we would want every NSO to be represented on site in Hong Kong during the Congress, we realize that not all NSOs will be able to send participants. However, we still aim at having all voices of our Movement represented, and that is why we invite you to organize a WSEC event in your NSO and participate virtually!

The idea is simple: a group of people from your NSO working on Education in Scouting gathers in one place and follows sessions virtually through our webpage and social media, and discusses the session topic. Afterwards, you provide us with your input on the topic, and we include it in the final report of the Congress! Through this, we are trying to enable as many as possible NSO/NSAs to have their voice heard in the Congress Discussions, even if you do not have representatives on site in Hong Kong.

YOU LIKE THE IDEA? HERE'S HOW YOU PROCEED:

Each “WSEC@YourNSA” will be an independently held event of WSEC.

1. Create an NSO profile here. We kindly ask you to use your full NSO/NSA name and emblem as profile picture. (see form online: <http://www.worldscouteducationcongress.org/en/register>)
2. The procedure for registration is the same as for individual participants, therefore we would kindly ask you to inform us about the creation of your profile by sending us an email at congress@scout.org with the name of your NSA/NSO and profile name no later than November 15th. In the email, please also indicate the name and email address of the person in charge for the event.
3. And your profile is then created!
4. 4Next, identify the members of your team, who will be present during the event and contribute to creating a NSO/NSA report for the Congress afterwards.
5. Take a look and decide about the sessions/topics you want to discuss in your NSA/O. Read what the session is about and also the proposed questions.
6. Find a place suitable for holding the meeting. If the meeting is going to be held virtually, find the best channel for you to do so. Test to see if everything is working (sound, video, etc).
7. Appoint a moderator to lead the discussions, as well as rapporteur who will document the key discussion points and conclusions.

INDEPENDENTLY OF WHEN YOU ARE GOING TO HOST YOUR EVENT, KEEP IN MIND SOME GENERAL REMARKS:

1. Take a moment for a round of introductions before you start the discussions within your group.
2. Appoint a rapporteur and moderator (if not done before the meeting).
3. Present the objectives and what the session is going to be about.
4. Present the context/inputs (or follow the session if it is simultaneously).
5. Develop the group discussions/questions (if the session is simultaneous, consider whether to ask them to the facilitators directly in the comment section of the session page or to answer them on your own).
6. Write a final report. Include a list with full names of the persons who attended your event.
7. Take pictures of the event. Besides a group picture (if possible) take also some reflecting the debates and work moments during the session.
8. Send us an email with your the report. Include the pictures you have taken. If you have recorded your event, share the link where you uploaded the recording (youtube, webpage, etc.).
9. Your NSO/NSA will receive a certificate for participation in the WSEC by email, a couple of weeks after the event.
10. For promoting your event (especially in social media), please use the title WSEC@(your NSO/NSA name).
11. You are invited to use the logo of the WSEC in your promotional pieces. Note: The logos cannot be modified.

Last, but not least, don't forget to follow up within your NSO about your discussions! The World Scout Education Congress aims at being a milestone event for Education in World Scouting – however, to achieve this, we need to ensure a high-quality follow up on its results within each of our NSOs.

YOU MAY:

- A) Meet some days or hours before the session is going to be held in Hong-Kong (In this case, you are invited to send us the conclusions of your discussions before the session in Hong-Kong starts, so that they can be given to the facilitators for consideration of before the session starts.
- B) Meet during the session (In this case: follow the live streaming of the session (if available) and the discussions that are happening on the website's session page. React with your comments to the facilitators' questions and give your group's inputs and questions as well.
- C) Meet after the session has been held (In this case: Watch the recording of the session (if available) and discuss the session's outcomes stated on the session page. Use this as an input for your discussions

CEREMONY AND FAREWELL PARTY

GORDON WU HALL

Town Hall

Here, the participants will have the opportunity to schedule meetings with World Scouting's Volunteers, key executives of the World Scout Bureau, and many other distinguished Scout Leaders, who are present at the Congress. This will be an opportunity for one-to-one discussions with these individuals, and these meetings will be pre-arranged.

Evening Social Sessions Programme

As we mentioned in Bulletin No. 2, the Congress will offer social events, which are informal pockets of events to provide a break or a "breathing space" from the "office hours" of the Global City. After dinner of the second day, a number of "clubs" and "spaces" are organized, focusing on socializing and networking. Most of the "clubs" are walk-in activities and a number of these activities need participants to "sign-up."

Network Meetings

This is a time designated for all [name of network] who are present at the Congress to meet informally and address issues of their particular interest. Though this session is marked a [name of network], all participants interested in this gathering are welcome to join.

Meeting Plaza

The Congress is a great opportunity to have face-to-face meetings with partners on specific issues. A space with comfortable seating, , called "Meeting Plaza," will be provided so that participants have a place to sit and discuss, share or consult on matters of common interest. If one needs a space to sit down and talk with other National Scout Organizations, the "Meeting Plaza" is the place to be!

There is no need for a reservation. If the space is free, you are welcome to sit down and talk! This session has replaced "Speed-Dating."

Town Fair

An informal session, which is organized on the evening of the first day, 22 November 2013. The "Speaker's Corner" and the "Museo" have been integrated together and a new name have been assigned to this session - "Town Fair."

In the "Town Fair," NSOs participating in the congress are invited to bring along with them materials (for example, books, leaflets, info-sheets, poster, roll ups, games) about promising practices or events they are willing to share, promote and present to other NSOs.

In the "Town Fair," a special corner will also be provided for NSOs who would like to make a presentation to introduce a particular project, or promote ideas or events. A schedule will be provided to six NSOs on a first-come-first-serve basis (the presentation should not be longer than 15 minutes each).
